

CALL FOR PARTICIPANTS

CREATIVE VOICES OF WOMEN: INTERNATIONAL WORKSHOP FOR COMMUNITY BUILDING

WHERE:

Pécs, Hungary

WHEN:

22–27 March 2017

WHO:

24 women from Poland, Hungary, Czech and Slovak Republic

The workshop is open to all women representing local communities in the Czech Republic, Slovakia, Poland and Hungary who participate in developing communities mainly in the intercultural and inclusive environment; want to learn how to take action creatively or to alert the public to local issues using nonviolent tools of communication; are interested in women's rights issues and want to contribute to related public debate; seek to make their voices heard; want to strengthen their participation in their communities; are having the experience of migration, belonging to an ethnic minority and encounter gender issues in their lives.

What to expect: respectful, intercultural and inclusive environment; meeting new women from different communities from all over the Czech Republic, Slovakia, Poland and Hungary; possibility to share the realities and experience with migration, gender and ethnicity across the various communities; creative work and program including training in community arts (theater, mural painting, community music, dance, landart) with experience of taking action in public space.

The training is a part of the project „Migration Through the Lens of Gender and Art“, which brings voices of women with experience of migration into the public debate and public action in the Visegrad countries.
